COUNTRY AREA MUST FIGHT FOR EXISTENCE

BIG INTERESTS THREATEN ITS INDEPENDENCE

Mass Meeting Held at La Grange Sunday; Aid Down State Asked

MEANS LIFE OF ALL LOCAL GOVERNM'TS

The big interests of Chicago, protected by the large Chicago newspapers have the skids ready to place under the country towns within the so-called Metropolitan area. Under the guise of relief for taxing bodies, bills have been presented that in place of giving the much needed relief that is needed to bring order out of the present tax chaos, will mean if they are allowed to become a law, placing the yoke of slavery upon every independent government in Cook and adjoining counties. The exposure occurred at LaGrange Sunday when the representative and state senators from this district addressed the representatives of taxing bodies who had responded to the invitation to be present.

State Senator Huebsch said some startling things. Figures were presented showing the low personal property assessments that is now enjoyed by the monied interests of Chicago. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Western Gateways association and was full of gun powder from the start. Palatine and DesPlaines were the only towns of this immediate vicinity which were represented, but those present returned to their homes determined to solicit the aid and cooperation of every taxing body and local government to combat the danger that threatens.

Startling, but true, not a single bill that has been presented at the present emergency session of the state legislature carries an emergency clause and if passed would not become effective until next July. The downstate has raised a great hue and cry that the Metropolitan area of Chicago is not paying its just share of taxes and means should be found to increase it.

The Chicago "Tax experts" have it all figured out that a central government, controlled by a few men should take over the entire governmental duties of present bodies; that a special state commission shall hereafter hold the whip hand over all appropriations and expenditures of even the smallest municipalities in the metropolitan area, similar to the present method in which the state public utility commission must give its consent, before a village can govern railroad operations within its boundaries.

The removal of present assessors and tax collectors is probable if the Chicago interests have their way. With the departure of the local assessor the local property owner will be entirely at the mercy of the Chicago experts and the removal of the tax collector will mean that the local taxing bodies will have to wait longer than ever for their funds and then probably lose a large percentage of what is justly theirs.

Mayor Bartlett of Evanston urged upon those present the necessity of using the Illinois municipal league thereby soliciting the help of down state cities and villages in the fight of the Cook county country districts for their existence.

Mr. Huebsch says there never was a more critical time. Telegrams,, messages, resolutions, petitions, etc., should be showered upon the members of the legislature. He urged that the owners of the three large Chicago newspapers be approached and acquainted with the true situation by representatives of the country towns. He stated that if such measures were adopted, he was certain that the country towns of the metropolitan area and the downstate towns would be able to get together and have an understanding of the needs of the Country towns of Cook county, outside of Chicago of certain big interests of Chicago that are about to be forced upon the public under the guise of supposed economy.

Among other things urged was the need of a state school protective organization similar to the municipal league which serves the villages of the entire state and which maintains a lobby at Springfield at all sessions of the legislature.

Palatine was represented by Mayor Oltendorf, Alderman Godknecht and Village Clerk T. C. Hart.

The fallacy of centralized authority over the country towns is at the present time especially proven. by the break down in the office of country treasurer. Treasurers of local government are not only denied the money that is rightfully theirs, but have to wait the will and pleasure of the county office before receiving statements of collections. The 1930 tax money that was promised would be forthcoming in December of this year, is nearly as far off as ever. Nothing is heard about the mailing date of 1930 tax bills. Everybody is waiting for the "relief" that is promised by Governor Emmerson. The opinion of some of those who have their hands upon the pulse of public opinion is that Cook county may have gone strongly democratic at the last election, but unless our Republican governor can bring something concrete out of the present special session of the legislature, Cook county will go so far into the democratic colomn at the next election that it will take a long time finding itself back.

Evangelical Brotherhood Holds Dinner

The Evangelical brotherhood of St. John's church, Arlington Heights, held their "Father and Sons" banquet last Wednesday evening, with an attendance of about 96.

The large company marched into the church basement dining hall to the processional played by the Sunday school boys' band. All stood while they sang grace to the tune, "Old Hundred." Rev. J. H. Ellerbrake gave a few words of greeting. Several hymns and other songs were sung, led by Mr. Fred Durni.

After the dinner the real program began with piano solos by Mr. Edward Hahnfeldt of Palatine, whose grandfather was one of the founders of St. John's church. The Men's chorus then sang, "A Charge To Keep I Have." Cornet solos were played by Mr. Marvin Pingel, a grandson of Mr. Ed. Pingel, one of the earliest members.

Mr. Durni, speaking as a "son," gave "A Few Words to Our Dads." The "Dad" who was to have responded not being present, Mr. Ellerbrake did so. Mr. Dennis Landmeier pleased all with a vocal solo, then Mr. Hahnfeldt played again; giving a remarkable performance.

The main address of the evening was by Rev. P. E. Winger, minister of St. Peter's Evangelical church in Niles Center. The entire congregation is really one "brotherhood." he pointed out. He retold Bible stories of fine examples of father and son relationships, adding a few anecdotes from his own experience. He made an excellent address.

Several boys gave talks on the general topic, "Hold Your End of the Line." The entire group sang a song "God Give Us Men." With the Lord's Prayer in unison, and the hymn "God Be With You," this happy gathering was dismissed.

TOY PROJECTS COMMENCES THIS WEEK

Appeal for Used Toys, Especially Dolls for Children of Poor

The Second Annual Toy Project in Arlington Heights is already under way.

In the paint and wall paper store of the N. Webber company on Dunton street are two dozen strong toy carts, unpainted. the work of the manual training boys at the Arlington Heights High school, under Mr. A. M. Conger, and made out of paint boxes. They show neat workmanship. Mrs. Webber and her assistants will paint these wagons for distribution to children in needy homes at Christmas time. Also coming from the High school manual training department are wooden dogs and Japanese puzzles.

The Lions club, who, with the Community Nurse, Miss Martha Jackson, are taking the responsibility mainly for distribution of the toys, as they did last Christmas.

The call is being made for toys of all descriptions, not junk, but any that, with a reasonable repairing and paint, can give some child happiness on Christmas Day. Letters are being sent to the Aid Societies of churches, to aid in the collection of these toys.

Especially dolls are being asked for. Probably there will not be so many regular ones as available as last winter. Therefore ladies are asked to bring in old gun metal or black stockings, which can be made up into stuffed dolls. Mrs. Webber and her assistants will also make some stuffed cotton hose dolls.

27 Are Caught Without Permits; Fined $15 Each

The new law that requires permits from land owners of posted property is no joke. 27 nimrods hunting in the Barrington region have discovered this during the last two weeks. These trespassers were picked up by wardens and deputies. brought in to court and fined $15 each. They were from Chicago, Elgin, Des Plaines, and Northshore communities.

Hunters should take heed and provide themselves with signed permits before entering posted property.

Let's Be Thankful

Our Churches Give Timely Messages "Why Be Thankful in 1931"

Thank God for Goodness; For Church and Country

A Thanksgiving service in German will be held at St. John's Evangelical church, Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. 'My text will be Ps. 92, verse 1: "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto Thy name, O most High.", said Rev. J. H. Ellerbrake. "My outstanding points will be (1) "Thanks to God for His goodness and mercy; (2) Thanks for the church. Christians make the best citizens; they obey the law; the Government depends most on them. (3) Thanks for our land and country; the benefits we enjoy here."

Blessings in Disguise Cause for Thanksgiving

Rev. John T. Wagener, rector of St. James' Catholic church gives this Thanksgiving message to Herald readers:

"We must ever remember that thanksgiving is a form of prayer which is both pleasing to God and profitable to ourselves. People often make the mistake of believing that prayer signifies only petition or request. They never pray except to ask favors from above. They never think of giving thanks for blessings received. To do the reverse would be more advisable. Gratitude for the least favor will dispose a donor to greater generosity. This is also true of our relations with Almighty God, the Giver of all gifts. Consequently we should never forget to be grateful to God for small favors as well as for great blessings. It is, therefore, fitting that a special day be set aside to remind us of this obligation.

"At first thought many people will incline to the belief that this year they have no reasons to make Thanksgiving Day that which its name implies—a day of thanks. They have been jobless for a year or more—have been obliged to make sacrifices and deny themselves pleasures and luxuries which they enjoyed during more prosperous times—have seen their savings dwindle and now find themselves in debt. But no matter how great the misfortunes that have befallen them, they can still find many things for which they can and should give thanks to Almighty God. They still have life, health, loved ones and good friends—perhaps many other blessings that can not be bought with money. They can draw consolation from the fact that matters might be worse than they are and that there are countless thousands in worse straits than they. The very misfortunes which they suffer are blessings in disguise. By accepting them with resignation to the will of God they can gain "treasures for heaven where neither rust nor moth can destroy and where thieves cannot break in and steal." The true Christian will, therefore, be thankful not only for the good fortune he has had, but also for the opportunity of suffering and thus gaining merit for heaven. For him Thanksgiving Day will be a religious feast rather than a merely secular holiday."

Rev. John T. Wagener.

Geo. Busse Is Treasurer Feehanville Drain. Dist.

Mr. Geo. Busse is busy making out the assessment notices to land owners in the Feehanville Drainage District. He is the new treasurer of the district and to whom the assessments are to be paid.

What Are We Thankful For, Asks M. E. Pastor

"A man's life 'consisteth not of the abundance of things he possesseth,' remarked Rev. Samuel Taylor, of the First Methodist church, when interviewed concerning this Thanksgiving day. "I spoke Sunday on the spiritual meaning of Thanksgiving. Can we thank God for our economic order of today? We must thank God on some other basis than the material things. Can we thank God for the way patriotic America has observed the law the past year?

"Thanksgiving was inaugurated by men and women that had only the barest necessities of life. It was born not of abundance, but hope, hard work, and an abiding confidence in the future. "In everything give thanks, for this is the will of God.'—I Tess. 5:18. Thanksgiving is based not on the material, but the spiritual."

The Methodist and Presbyterian churches unite in a Thanksgiving service Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian edifice, and invite all to observe Thanksgiving with them.

"Faith of Fathers" Versus "Depression"

" 'O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our maker.' Ps. 95-6. "The bell in the church tower has called us to the house of God. It is the call to worship, consecreation and thanksgiving," states Rev. H. A. Kossack of the Presbyterian church.

"Whenever the church bells ring out, we are reminded of the fact that there are still people who have not forgotten God and who, in the faith and footsteps of their fathers, gather in their respective places of worship and render thanks to Almighty God for his providence and care.

"It is a far cry from that first American Thanksgiving. in the fall of 1621 when Elder Wm. Brewster, lifting up his hands in prayer to Almighty God, said: 'Let us thank God for all his goodness,' to the Thanksgiving season of 1931.

"Have we a depression? We always have depressions when God is forgotten. When spirituality is at low ebb and when the altar fires are permitted to become extinguished.

"Have we reasons to be thankful in 1931? Count your blessings, bear in mind how well off you are. you still have health, strength and fireside, you still have the church and our nation is at peace.

"Yes, God still lives, and they who trust him thru Jesus Christ, are not much worried by what is called a universal depression; and through faith in Him find the answer to all of life's perplexing porblems.

"Have faith in God and your Thanksgiving season will be joyous and blessed. Therefore, 'Come, let us worship and bow down, let us kneel before the Lord our maker'."

The Union Thanksgiving service for this year, will be held at the Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Kossack will preach.

RIDES THROUGH BLIZZARD

Mrs. Bessie Day arrived Monday from Salt Lake City, where she has been a year with her mother. Coming thru Wyoming she came thru a blizzard at 14 degrees below zero. Though delayed. the train made up lost time and arrived as per schedule. Mrs. Rex. Volz and Mrs. Day will enjoy Thanksgiving dinner with the A. F. Volz family.

To Give Thanks In "Depression"

"A calm study of the situation must convince us that the present business depression has not been an undiluted evil." Our nation, under the stern discipline of the depression, is learning many essential lessons which all the days of plenty could not impress upon them," said Rev. H. C. Fricke, when asked for a Thanksgiving message to Herald readers.

"It is evident that the minds of men have been jarred out of their complacency and materialism, and have been directed to spiritual values and realities; and enumeration of the lessons learned by the nations and by individuals must offer us sufficient reason for lifting up our hearts and voices in gratitude to God 'who doeth all things well'."

Mr. Fricke's subject at the Wednesday night English service at 8 o'clock will be "Thanking God in the Depression." "We are accommodating the people by having this service Wednesday evening;that will give everyone an opportunity of attending in the best manner to this annual occasion, that of thanking God in worship for all His many benefits.

"In the morning at 10, Pastor Noack will conduct a German Thanksgiving service."

True Gladness Seen In "Understanding"

From Christian Science Society in Arlington Heights:

"Jeremiah says, 'Let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise loving kindness, judgment and righteousness in the earth; for in these things do I delight, saith the Lord.' Gladness is inseparable from spiritual understanding and Godlikeness; therefore the Christian Scientist should at all times aspire to be glad with God's own reflected gladness.

"Scientific thanksgiving lends the very steadfastness of God himself to each one of whom it can be said, 'He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the Lord.' Fixed trust in God's omnipotence constitutes true worship and brings to God's witness the safety and dominion which God Himself enjoys and imparts to His likeness. In short, real thanksgiving is a reflection of God." (From editorial in Christian Science Sentinel).

The Annual Thanksgiving service of this society will be held at 11 o'clock, in addition to the Wednesday evening meeting at 8.

Dr. John M. Tutt To Lecture About Christian Science

Dr. John M. Tutt, C. S. B., member of the board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, will lecture on Christian Science next Friday evening, Nov. 27, at 8 o'clock at First Church of Christ, Scientist, on Laurel avenue in Des Plaines. The lecture is free and all are invited.

ALL-MODERN HOME OPEN THIS WEEK AND NEXT

The All-Modern home at Jewel Park. Elm and Willow avenues in Barrington, will be open to the public a week longer than previously announced; owing to the interest created. It will remain open up to and including Sunday, Dec. 6. For fuller particulars, see the big advertisement in this issue.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE ON FRIDAY

Call First on Business Houses; Then Homes; For Infant Welfare

The 25th Annual sale of Christmas seals and Health Bonds in Arlington Heights, will start on Friday, Nov. 27, and at that time workers will call on all the local business houses.

The sales by the school children, however, will not start until Monday the 30th, when competitive teams from public schools will call among the homes.

The village will be definitely districted; and if purchasers will stick a seal over the door bell or on the front door, solicitors will not call a second time.

Every effort will be made to handle the need efficiently and with as little bother as possible to the supporters of this worthy cause.

Arthur Consoer Invited by President Hoover to Attend Home Conference

Mr. Arthur W. Consoer of Consoer Older & Quinlan consulting engineers of Chicago has been invited by President Hoover to attend the meeting of the President's conference on Home Building and Home Ownership which is called in the City of Washington December 2-5. The conference will be attended by selected engineers, contractors, bankers, and realtors from all sections of the country who will endeavor to develop ways and means of pulling the house building business out of its present slump. The proposal recently advanced for some form of national mortgage banks will receive attention as well as the matter of reduced cost of water supply, sewerage, paving, street lighting, and house building.

REGIONAL SCOUT ASSEMBLY DEC. 2, EDGEWATER BEACH

The regional assembly, of the Boy Scouts of America is to be held in Chicago, December, 2 at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Besides the general sessions to be addressed by such outstanding Scout leaders as Dr. George J. Fisher, Deputy Scout Executive; Arthur A. Schuck, Director of Operations of the National Council, and Thomas J. Keene, National Sea Scout Director; there will be Sectional Training meetings covering Council Officers groups, Camping, Finance, Sea Scouting and Cub Program.

The one day session will reach its climax with a rousing banquet in the evening, attended by the several hundred delegates.

This year's assembly theme is "Scouting has the Green Light, Let's Go."

President A. L. Webster of the local council is hoping that at least fifty men can represent the local Scout Council this year and urges all men desirous of going, to get in touch with Mr. W. H. Boireau of the local recruiting committee.

Boy Leaders Leave for Conference

The latest gospel in the world is "Know Thy Work and Do It." This is the theme of the Patrol Leaders Conference being held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at St. Alban's school, Sycamore, Illinois, which is being attended by a number of Northwest Suburban Boy Leaders.

Wholesale Produce Market Goes Crusade

A flurry of excitement was created in merchandising circles Monday, Nov. 23, when the Main Street Crusader announced over Radio Station WCHI that the Wholesale Produce Market had "gone Crusade."

Independent merchants who display the Main Street Crusade Honor Store emblem as evidence of their support of Mr. Caslow in his fight against monopoly and mergerism in business can now go to the produce market and deal with Wholesale Honor Stores.

It is presumed that the next step is that of enlisting the farmers in this Crusade, thus affording the general public as far as produce is concerned the protection of American principles in business in all its stages from farm to table with only transportation as an exception.

Newton Jenkins in his recent talk over WCHI advanced the theory that if the farmer were prosperous the nation would prosper with him. "If Mr. Jenkins is right, it behooves every produce farmer to get in touch with the Main Street Crusade and lend a hand."

To Show Educational Pictures at M. E. Hall

An interesting story of how the natural gas was brought from Texas to Chicago, will be told in motion pictures by courtesy of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois at the Methodist church hall, in Arlington Heights, Monday evening, Dec. 7, at 8 o'clock. There will also be two reels giving the life of Thomas Edison from boyhood to manhood. Mr. Homer Evans will sing. This entertainment is sponsored by the Gleaners' Circle. Admission: Adults, 25 cents; all school children, 10 cents.

Suffering of Children Forces Parents to Apply for Help

With the hardships of winter just around the corner, requests for relief are pouring in daily, thirteen new requests being received Thursday, November 19.

You are all aware of the fact that the Local Relief Committee cannot cope with the situation without the necessary funds. We must rely on those who are fortunate in having work to do their share in this crisis.

The situation is serious. Will you please consider for one moment the feeling that comes over the Father and Mother because adversity has knocked on the door. They must put their children to bed in a cold room and in many cases without food. Do you think that these children are deserving of such treatment through no fault of their own? Of course you don't.

Your Committee have confidence in the good people of Arlington Heights and are positive of the fact that those who are working will cooperate with the Relief Committee in seeing that no one in the Village of Arlington Heights goes hungry or suffers from the cold this winter.

If you have not contributed, please do so now so that your Committee can administer the relief that is urgent.

BENEFIT FOOTBALL SUNDAY

Do not forget the big football game to be played at the Arlington Heights High School athletic field, Sunday afternoon, November 29.

As this is a Relief Fund Game, proceeds of same will be donated to the Arlington Heights Relief Fund.

Please do you bit by purchasing a ticket as well as attending the game. Tickets as previously advertised, 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Children's tickets can be purchased at the gate only.

Let's make this affair a record one.

THANK THEATRE

The Relief Committee extends their thanks to the management of the Arlington theater and to the ladies who so kindly helped in making Grocery Night a success.

Through the kindness of the management of this theater, arrangements have been made for another Grocery Night, announcement of date later.

SIX WIVES, AND STILL DIDN'T STAY

Opportunity Greets Explorer; Native Blacks Compel Admiration

With not even a "pea-shooter" for "defense" on a 4500-mile motorcycle trip across Africa from Guinea to north of Lake Tchad, thence to the Red Sea, James C. Wilson and a pal got through, and were treated handsomely by various tribes, some of which had never seen an American before. His banjo served better than a gun with the so-called "blood-thirsty savages," whom he found to be like other folks under the skin,—treat them right, expect the best of them and they respond to your expectations.

All who gathered at the Arlington Heights high school last Friday night to hear of Mr. Wilson's experiences, and see his pictures and the beautiful rugs and robes, brass and leather work that he had brought from hitherto practically unknown tribes had a new vision of the character of people who showed such artistic ability, such industry, working under such privation and hardships. The natural courtesy, the honesty, and the helpfulness of the native African received high praise.

Negroes Creative

Mr. Wilson found that the black jungle negro people whom he called Ethiopians, show much creative artistic ability in their native haunts. He mentioned incidentally a number of men of genius in America and Europe of that race: Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the poet; S. Taylor-Coleridge, the composer; Alexandre Dumas, romantic novelist and dramatist, and others.

Farther north on the savannas, steppes and desert, living is hard, and has been hard for centuries; there he found the Hamitic people, a dark branch of the Caucasian race. These people he found to be industrious farmers and artisans in a primitive way, but a way to be admired, for they were making the best of circumstances. Many of these people had never seen an American or motor vehicle before. He mentioned one large city of mud huts, having 250,000 inhabitants. Booker T. Washington he incidentally mentioned as of Hamitic type; the slaves brought to America were partly Hamitic, partly of Ethiopian blood, according to Mr. Wilson.

Women Favor Polygamy

The most successful powerful men may rear the largest families, and vice versa—in Africa a native African woman thinks it unfortunate if her husband has no other wife, for it implies that he does not amount to much.

Mr. Wilson, who was an instructor in English in the Iowa State college, sees no sense in assuming general inferiority in the dark-skinned races. The white man had a more favorable region in which to develop his civilization than the African. The African is superior to the white in his adaptation to the African climate and living conditions. His black skin protects his body from the intense tropical light; as does his thick skull protect the brain from the sun's rays. His flat nose and wide open nostrils offer least resistance to breathing the moist, warm air of the tropical lowlands. The Hamites (Berbers, and many other tribes in drier northern Africa) have higher noses and straighter features.

Good Word for Mohammedans

Mohammedanism is sweeping over northern Africa, and replacing the old idol worship. This, Mr. Wilson finds, is a good thing for the people as far as it goes, it puts them in touch with the world outside, and teaches them to reverence one God. He paid a touching tribute to one Mohammedan walking 4,000 miles to Mecca; over the hot sands; the two Americans were thirsty, and the Mohammedan cheerfully gave them water from his scanty allowance,—Allah is merciful!" Everywhere the two men were treated with kindness and hospitality—by the natives.

Missionaries Stock Up!

Five dollar bills, not dimes, would go into the collection baskets if people could only realize the good the Christian missionaries are doing for the African people as he has seen it, Mr. Wilson declared emphatically. Only he thought they were making a great mistake in trying to force ugly clothes upon people in a country where clothes are a dirty nuisance. Contrary to popular belief, the Africans are a clean people when they get a chance to be, Mr. Wilson showed. The ladies are very particular about their personal appearance—the best looking wife according to their ideas, brings the best price—as high as $35!

Opportunity Knocks

One Emir who lived in a pretentious palace made of mud, offered Mr. Wilson six wives and to support all the children if he would stay and play his banjo every night.

ARLINGTON H'TS

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Megel of this city are the proud parents of a fine 7½ pound baby boy, born at St. Joseph's hospital in Elgin, Nov. 18.

Mrs. Arthur Berscheit of S. State road, has been seriously inn in St. Joseph's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Dibley and family are planning to move to Evanston the end of this week if weather permits.

Betty Miles will come home from Notre Dame school Wednesday in time for Thanksgiving holiday.

Mr. G. R. Wolf made a business trip to New York first of the week hoping to get home in time for Thanksgiving with his family.

Miss Alice Ackland of Chicago was an overnight guest last week Friday of Mrs. G. F. Peterson.

The Little Flower club had a most successful card party Wednesday evening last week. There were twenty tables for the games; and a pleasent as well as profitable evening was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilke moved last Saturday into their new home in South Ridge avenue and George street.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Pfingsten, Jr., entertained Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bolte, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bolte, and Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Bolte, last Friday evening as supper guests. There were lively games. This was the first ime Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pfingsten have entertained in their pretty new home, and you may be sure they did it in fine style.

Miss Betty Tonne was taken to Northwestern hospital last Saturday, her birthday, too, a depressing way to celebrate the event. Of course she will have to miss the Thanksgiving dinner with her mother at her home at Lake Zurich.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bruhnke, after spending several years in the Heights, occupying the Klein house on Haddow avenue, moved back to Chicago two weeks ago.

Mrs. H. C. Cleveland and little Billie spent the week-end of the 14th with Billie's other grandmother at Crown Point, Indiana.

Mrs. Raoul Paster entertained the Sunshine club at her home Thursday afternoon last week. All members were present.

Miss May Krebs is spending the week with her brother-in-law and nieces in the H. F. Martens home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Wolf attended the campaign banquet given at the Hamilton club last Saturday night by the ardent supporters of Wm. H. Malone, as candidate for governor of Illinois. The meeting was large and enthusiastic and Malone's banner waved enthusiastically.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pfingsten were theater guests of Mr. and Mrs. Riggs Robards of Sheridan drive, attending "Blossom Time" in the city.

Last week Wednesday, Mrs. Harold Peters entertained a company of fourteen ladies in a surprise shower for Mrs. Edward Niemeyer.

Mrs. Grueber and her daughter, Emily, went to Chicago to help in celebrating her son's birthday.

Woman's club members please notice: Mrs. Hugo Behrel, chairman of the Welfare committee, announces that the request has been received from the 7th District Chairman of Philanthropy, calling for pound donations of all kinds of cereals, for the benefit of the Little Wanderers; members are requested to bring their packages to the meeting of the local club here Wednesday, Dec. 2.

Mrs. Alfred R. Jasper entertained Mrs. Tomich and daughter of Chicago in her home on East Euclid, Friday last week.

Rev. Fricke tells us the Sunday service was well attended in spite of bad weather.

Mr. Melton and family, once residents here, and now of Chicago, are planning to move to Park Ridge soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Verton and their little son and Miss Arelen Fieburg of Chicago, were guests of the Harris-Peters families Sunday.

Mrs. E. H. Bolte was hostess to a group of nine ladies in her home Wednesday last week. These busy ladies take their needlework and spent a happy afternoon with their genial hostess, Mrs. Bolte's mother. Mrs. Schiering showed them many beautiful specimens of crochet work and Miss Schiring had beautiful pieces of embroidery. Mrs. Wichtner had an unusually rare piece of needlepoint work she brought back from Roumania.

Last Friday was Mrs. E. Brix' birthday. In the evening eight of her friends came in to give her a pleasant surprise. Mrs. Brix is employed at the Mandel stores and now lives on the south side.

Mrs. David Prosser spent two days with her friend, Mrs. Dollen, at Des Plaines.

Mr. G. R. Wolf with another skilled nimrod, went down to Kentucky and whatever success they had, there were savory rumors on the air about a quail supper (Bob White.)

Mr. C. E. A. Lorenzen received a happy surprise one day last week in his Cary home. Seven members of the office force with whom he had been so long associated came out to visit him. They brought beside the cheer of good comradeship a splendid new radio, which will bring him the best things from all over the world. Going one morning recently to get water from his spring, he heard a puppy crying, tracing the sound he found a little doggie deserted on the island. From his feet, he is thought to be a collie. What better friend could a man find than a faithful collie?

Mrs. Kossack and Mrs. H. M. Blume drove to Des Plaines where they were entertained by Mrs. Garland's old friend, Mrs. Held.

Miss Alvina Schaefer and her sister, Mrs. Pauline Krause, entertained the Community players in the Schaefer home last week Tuesday evening. The company are arranging to give a play for the benefit of the Relief fund. For more immediate needs they are putting up apple sauce.

Mrs. Weinhardt, and the Mueller family of Euclid street will entertain the Adams family, Mr. and Mrs. Hackbarth and daughter, Janice and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Grose at dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

BE THANKFUL

By Virginia Woods MacKall

I'm thankful, as I ought to be,
For all I may possess
Of worldly goods, and fickle health,
And blessings—more or less;
Of gratitude for all I have
I tender every jot,
But most of all I'm thankful for
The things I haven't got!

A elephant, a home in ajil,
A squint, are some of these;
A bungalow in Greenland, and
Rheumatics of the knees.
I count my blessings one by one,
And own to quite a lot;
And then I count my lovely lacks—
The things I haven't got!

No one can be so poor in lacks
As not to claim a few,
And no one lacks so many things
He'd not lack others too.
One can be always thankful,
If he owns the earth or not—
The world will still be full of things
And things, he hasn't got!

Mrs. R. J. Perrin visited with friends in Evanston Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Utterbach and son Billy Dean spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller in Evanston.

Mrs. Henry Klehm and Mrs. Ed Volz were callers at Mrs. J. R. Hodges' one night last week.

The strong winds we have been having played havoc with some of the roofs around here.

Miss Nadine Smith of Wheeling was a week-end guest of the Neville girls.

Mrs. Hoyt, Mrs. Sauer and Mrs. Mitchell spent Friday afternoon at the Garfield Conservatory viewing the lovely chrysanthemums.

Mrs. George Hearn, S. Mitchell, has been enjoying a visit from her sister and son.

Mrs. A. B. Hewson, S. Highland, is convalescing at the Billings Memorial hospital after an operation performed last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. Forszen spent Sunday at Harvard.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grismer and children from Chicago spent Sunday at W. H. Grismer's.

Mr. and Mrs. Rizzie and Delores spent Sunday in Glencoe.

Friday evening, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. George Dobbins gave a shower at Mrs. Edward's home, in honor of Virgil Horath and Miss Helen Culek of Wood Dale, Ill. Mr. Horath has made his home at Mrs. Edwards' for more than two years. The couple are to be married Nov. 25th and will reside in the Reese apartments. Twenty guests were present. They played bunco during the evening. Mrs. Merry and Mr. Elliott won first prize. The honor guests were presented with lovely gifts. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses. The bride-to-be had a delightful welcome to this community by the guests who also had a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Rizzie entertained at "500" Saturday evening the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Klein, Mr. and Mrs. P. Brehm, who, by the way, won the booby; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wulbecker; Mr. and Mrs. J. Wydra, and Mr. and Mrs. John Matchen, who were first prize winners. Delicious refreshments were served and the guests had a delightful time.

Keep Your Service Station Clean if You Want Women Customers—

In these days of fast and furious automobiling, women — sisters, mothers, housewives—are often in sole charge of the family car a great deal of the time. Progressive service station proprietors are realizing this and are doing their utmost to bring women drivers into their places of business. One interesting account of this condition was brought to us the other day in talking to Mr. Winkelman, Willard battery dealer at Davis St.

"Women insist that a battery service station be clean," says Mr. Winkelman, "before they will bring their cars in, in order to have their batteries serviced. Too many battery stations are far more greasy and grimy than it is at all necessary for them to be—and women will not drive in for service at such stations."

In Mr. Winkelman's opinion, women drivers are increasing so rapidly in number these days that the more progressive service stations everywhere are rapidly giving them very serious consideration among their customers. The average man is not particularly affected by the appearance of a service station when he comes in to have his battery inspected probably because he realizes that most shop work necessarily means a lot of grease and grime—and therefore he overlooks it. Women drivers, however, are apt to think of all places of business in terms of their own households.

"We keep our station as trim and neat as possible," says Mr. Winkelman. "We realize that women drivers are often in sole charge of the family car. This means that they are sometimes more our customers than their husbands, and we try to keep our station invitingly clean at all times. We consider it a matter of good business."

Crust of the Earth

The thickness of the earth's crust has been variously computed to be ten, twenty or more miles. Observations on earthquake motion by Milne and others indicated that the rocky material may extend for some thirty miles. Recent researches in regard to the radioactive substances present in rocks suggest that the crust is not more than fifty miles thick.

Come to Church Next Sunday

The Spirit of Jesus

By ROGER W. BABSON

"The cause of the depression was that people lost the spirit of service during the years of prosperity. They depended upon money, banks and stock exchanges instead of upon the Holy Spirit.

"The story is told of two young men graduating from the same scientific school with the same education. One today is with the Federal Health Service in Washington endeavoring to purify our foods; while the other is in private business in New York City showing employers how they can evade the law and use adulterants and still keep out of jail. These two young men graduated in the same class—the same year, with the same professors, the same text books, and the same environments. The first is working Jesus' way; while the second is working Cain's way.

"In these days of economic earthquakes, words fail me to emphasize sufficiently the great importance of this economic principle! Character is the real security and the basis of all permanent progress. Capitalism, Socialism, Communism, Fascism and all the other 'isms' are mere tools. Any one of these systems, operated in 'Jesus' way,' would be an improvement over present conditions. On the other hand, any one of these systems of itself, without the spirit of Jesus, is bound to fail."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 22.

The Golden Text was, "Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majesty" (Psalms 104:1).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all" (Ephesians 4:4, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul is the substance, Life, and intelligence of man, which is individualized, but not in matter. Soul can never reflect anything inferior to Spirit" (p. 477).

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Thanks to our God in heaven
above
For home and heatlh and reason—
Who bore us in His arms of love—
Through sun, and stormy season—
Who gives us blest immunity
From pestilence and war—
Giving us faith each day to be—
His great truths striving for.

"In everything give thanks.'"

Do we realize we so seldom begin and end our prayers with thanks and praise? We are always asking for more, rather than giving thanks for benefits received? To be sure we are told to "ask and ye shall receive," and we do, but do we remember to say "Thank You."

A few years ago, heard a young woman telling her grandmother of a dangerous trip in a storm she had taken in an automobile, and how she prayed God to save her from destruction and of her safe arrival at her destination. How she felt sure God answered her prayer. The grandmother then far in her nineties, as the young woman finished her story, looked at her earnestly and asked, "did you remember to thank God for your deliverance?"

As little children with earthly parents we are continually asking for more. Do we remember the thanks? Here is one thing every one of us should give thanks to God for this Thanksgiving Day, and every day, and that is for the marvelously mild season, which is a blessing for so many of our people unable to procure fuel.

Some one speaking of this the other day quoted, "God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," and if that saying is not in the Bible, it is no less inspired in its truth. Well, whether it was Sterne or Job gave expression to the sentiment it is nonetheless an expression of God's loving kindness to all suffering.

So many prophecies about a mild winter we hear and read. The ducks in the parks have scarcely any feathers on their legs, and the squirrels have light coats of fur. Aye, aye, and the little girls, have no covering on their legs, and the big ones but little to mention. And now to notice on back, neck, or arms. Ah, well! They snitch the squirrels' and the bunnies' fur to clothe themselves withal, even in heated halls or churches.

Be thankful: We have no longer or larger spaces to be drained this coming year, and only a few hundred dollars back taxes and assessments. Be thankful your worst enemy isn't triplets, and your roof only leaks when it rains. That our village council and congress never go into joint session. And that we have but one organization to each voter.

Another thing we have to be gorgeously thankful for is that we don't have to pay for our fine autumn weather on the installment plan. Nor to pay for the days winter is losing out of his share in the calendar. No, nor do we have to pay for the meteors we didn't even get tickets for, not a one did we see.

Tell you what it may be the real surely stars caught them as they fell to light up with when their electricity goes on the blink; by the way, a friend told me she saw a meteor fall the other night straight out of the "big dipper," —bet Ursa major had been "hogging" the lights and one slopped over the edge of her dipper. And we, we're thankful for the stars.

In our town, in churches and schools, and in our homes, we have so much to be thankful for. If things do not go just as we would wish, yet we are safe and should be thankful nothing worse befalls.

For dear ones, home, the past long gone
Far hidden 'neath a flood of tears
We thank Thee, Lord and follow
on—
Still trusting into other years.

Our losses sometimes prove our gain;
Enduring, builds us to endure,
We thank Thee, Lord, if loss or pain
Led us to trust in Thee secure.

The morn of youth, the home afar
Built us for higher, nobler things;
Thanks, Lord, for our todays,
which are
And all life's wider vision brings.

If hope succeeding hope shall fade
Mingling with love and joy the sad,
Still moving forward, undismayed
We thank Thee Lord for all we've had.

Never can I forget meeting a patient, pleasant faced woman, who toiled early and late. When spoke of the fine late autumn weather, and said we feared the winter would be more severe for it. This wise woman said: "Then we'll have what we had and be thankful for that." A wise woman she was.

We are all just about like the little girl who cried for more sauce, finally when her dish was filled, and she was greedily eating the contents, her mother said "Now what will you say to the lady." The child sulkily said—not "thank you," "more," I want more." Too often like the child, we forget to give thanks unto the Giver of all good gifts—we keep asking for "more," and more.

When the man who comes to our door with milk, came yesterday I met him and the dawn of Thanksgiving that radiated all over his face—when he told us he had a baby son, born that day. How he in his heart was thankful to God needed no words to tell. Sure he replied to our question, he is going to try to bring up to be a good man. Well can he tell what he is thankful for, Thursday next.

You know the old, the grim old, saying: "From the day you are born till you ride in your hearse, there's nothing so bad that it mightn't be worse." November 26th, let us every one, no matter how sad our condition, how gloomy our prospects, just gather to our hearts the things we have to be thankful for."

Some of us have not the things we had planned for; some of us have not attained the high positions we aimed to reach, some of us have not built the castled home —or soared the skies in an airplane; some of us have not written the book or the poem, we had longed to write. Yet, let us just look upon the common things we have to be thankful for.

Now here's this bushel of apples we got of the peddler, when we picked them over and found quite a lot of really good ones in the basket—we threw the spoiled ones away—and are ever so thankful for the good apples we have. When I read a book reeking with "sex stuff," and poisonous allusions, I sincerely thank God, I've not written that book even though it is a best seller, and places the author on the roll of fame.

I'm thankful I can sing along
In just a common, simple strain—
Thankful none find within my song
A soiling touch—to mar, or stain.

Thankful I've never purchased fame
Nor sought to soar above my worth
Thankful to know no guilt or shame
Has flowed from lines I've penned on earth.

Nor have I catered to the vile
Or evil passions mortals feel:
No word of mine e'er can defile
Or with the evil find appeal.

Poets who write in modern time
Too often paint, gruesome and loud
Pictures of wrecked homes, deeds of crime
Just now appealing to the crowd.

I thank God for each helpful
thing
He has given me the power to speak
Praying He'll help me still to bring
Some cheer and comfort to the weak.

Today I lift my prayer to God
Who helps me shun the luring ranks
Of modern poets, while I plod—
Midst common things, still giving thanks.

For lines concerning self, I plead
Pardon—and gladly make amends
To those who try to meet each need—
I still would cry, "Thank God for friends!"

Heaps of words are being bandied about cluttering up the air on "Depression." All right, get after him if you can, chase him to his den. Meantime, there is another beast" of "Ephesus," if you will, called "Repression," and it tortures some of us nigh to bursting. Lock in his "conduct of the understanding," said, "Too much and continued repression on matters that trouble us, in the end upsets the reason." He advises find song, good friend, and pour your troubles out! Then down with "repression!"

H. G. Wells, after his visit to America, says that Helen Keller was the most interesting woman he met over here. That's fine for Helen whom all here admire, deaf, dumb, and blind. Who once said if she could see the two things on earth she most longed to see was a child and a dog! Not a word about H. G. Wells or any other man!

Remember this Thanksgiving season it is not those who are card indexed as the "needy," who are in greatest trouble. There are families in their homes whose breadwinner is still not listed with the unemployed, who are yet in a state of nerve racking fear lest they lose their position. Even such who have a roof over their heads and no rent to pay should still be thankful.

Thanksgiving! Day of family reunions and rejoicing. Day when children and grandchildren meet in the old home. May God's blessing be on all these. In many homes in our town there will be a vacant chair and tears instead of gladness. Let us all remember each day we live we journey nearer to our dear ones called from earth. How sad it must be for those who have not lived in the Christian hope—who as Whittier describes in his beautiful poem:

"Alas for him, who never sees
The sun shine through the cypress trees
Who hopeless lays his dead away
Nor hopes to see the rising day
Across the mournful marbles play
Who hath not known in hours of faith,
That truth to flesh and sense unknown
That life is ever Lord of death,
And love can never lose its own."

Lord, we give thanks;
Not for the earth made graves
that lie
In wintry solitude so gray
And silent, now summer has gone,
But for the loved who went away
After a long race nobly run
After a victory bravely won,
To claim proud places in the sun.
For all they were, and are today
Lord, we give thanks.

Lord we give thanks!
We are not rich nor needy poor
But for the strength still to endure
Thou dost apportion day by day.
Though winter comes—and spring
depart
We know Thy premises are sure,
Our never failing staff and stay,
Even when we are too weak to pray—
Too often failing in our part
Lord we receive with grateful
heart
We do give thanks.

Lord, we give thanks—
For every tender human bond
Though some are called afar each year
Hope ever whispers hearts to cheer
That love leans out from the beyond
Still to enfold and bless us here:
While with sorrow Thou dost blend
Hope, lining every cloud with gold
Strengthening faith a thousand fold,
Since love, true love shall never end.

Lord, we give thanks.
Not that we see a greater gain
In all that we had hoped to do,
But for the vision piercing through
The worthless sham of idols slain;
A vision helping us to see
All we are not, that we should be
That trusting Thee we may attain.
Lord, though our lives seem torn apart
Help us to say with thankful
heart
Lord, we give thanks!

—Elinore Crisler Haynes.

Mail Christmas Packages Early, Says Postmaster

Christmas is not very far off in spite of the Indian summer weather, and the United States mail will soon be taking on the annual holiday load of packages and Christmas cards.

A plea to mail packages early in order to insure delivery before the holidays has been sent out by B. F. Helfers, local postmaster. Mr. Helfers offers the following suggestions

"Mail early for delivery before Christmas Day, on which there will be no mail delivery. Post offices will make every effort to handle the Christmas mails without congestion and delay, but owing to the enormous volume this can be done only with cooperation of the public.

"Before preparing your Christmas parcels read suggestions contained in bulletin posted in the lobby of the local post office.

"Insure or register valuable mail, use strong paper and heavy twine and securely wrap all parcels. Mark all parcels fragile that contain articles easily broken.

"Parcels for delivery in foreign countries should be mailed in November and should be packed most carefully, owing to the long sea travel involved.

"There will be no carrier deliveries or window service on Christmas Day and the public is therefore urged to mail sufficiently early to insure delivery before Christmas Day, to prevent their mail from being caught in the last minute jam and not delivered until after Christmas.

"The use of a special delivery stamp will insure delivery on Christmas Day if mailed at the proper time—only special delivery mail will be delivered on Christmas Day."

Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY

City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford cars
Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time.

21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather.

Their individual records ranged from 78,434 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,283,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2.284 cents a mile — less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance.

Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile.

Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy.

In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford cars in all branches of Detroit police work averaged 2.9 cents a mile!

Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation. Few branches of transportation demand such grueling service. The records show that low fuel and oil consumption is but one of the Ford's many economies. Ford materials, simplicity of design and accuracy in manufacturing provide unusual strength, stamina and freedom from replacements and repairs.

The individual car buyer as well as the purchasing department of a city or a business cannot afford to ignore the proved economy of the Ford car.

MAN KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK AT BARRINGTON

A Michigan stockman was instantly killed and two members of the train crow were injured at 12:25 o'clock Saturday morning when a Chicago & Northwestern passenger train plowed into the rear of a slow moving freight at Barrington, derailing the locomotive of the passenger and demolishing the caboose of the freight.

R. B. Hayward, 64, 310 North avenue Morencia, Mich., stockman riding in the caboose of the freight was crushed to death as the locomotive and the caboose telescoped. Barney Ziano, 323 North Homan avenue, Chicago, fireman on the passenger, sustained serious back injuries and bruises when he leaped from the cab of the locomotive.

Abraham Cohen, 36, 4043 North Central Park avenue, Chicago brakeman, was the third person injured in the wreck. He was slightly injured and allowed to go to his home after treatment at the Barrington hospital.

Leap From Cab

The passenger train was returning from Crystal Lake and was to tie up at Barrington for the night when the wreck occurred. The freight train had stopped at Barrington and was moving out slowly with a 50-car train according to officials of the railway company.

When the passenger plowed into the rear of the freight train Harry McClosky, Chicago, engineer, leaped from the cab and warned his fireman to do likewise. McClosky leaped safety without injury but Ziano was injured in his fall.

Evidence was presented at the inquest that the engineer of the passenger train had failed to obey a caution signal, and was proceeding at too great a speed to stop after he saw the caboose.

The brakeman of the stock train stated that he saw the other train coming and thinking that it would stop, did not light a fuse until it was nearly upon him.

The passenger train engineer is the same one who saved his life when he jumped at Stonegate two years ago when his engine hit a large sewer tile and caused the biggest wreck of its kind upon this division of the Northwestern.

Parents Auxiliary Boy Scouts Meets

Monday afternoon, Nov. 23, the Parent's Auxiliary of Boy Scouts met in regular session in the home of Mrs. W. A. Miles, the new president, who had charge of the meeting. The routine business was considered when the program was taken up.

The principal feature was an address by Mr. Nimtz, chief executive of the Northwest council of Boy Scouts. He gave interesting details of the object, privileges and methods of Boy Scout work. All this was gladly listened to by the mothers present. He also emphasized the benefits to the individual Scout.

Edward Chidley and Bud McKaig advanced local Scout workers, gave short talks, giving their experiences and the benefits received in Scout work.

Following the program questions and discussions, choice refreshments were served by the hospitable hostess.

There were some plans discussed for raising funds for the future.

The new president, Mrs. Miles enters into the work with enthusiasm and was delighted with the attendance and interest shown in the work.

The next regular meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Gaul in her home at Mount Prospect, Monday, December 14.

Community Athletic Club in Practice

The Community Athletic club is practicing regularly at the Methodist gym for the coming basketball season. Practice has been under way for two weeks. Most of last year's squad has returned and prospects are good for a successful season. No games have been definitely scheduled yet but several may be listed soon.

Bernice Diederich was reelected captain and Dorothy Kopplin treasurer. Ruth Dahlstrom was chosen president of the club. Other members are Margaret Klehm, Emma Klehm Timmerman, Kathryn Dibley, Gertrude Weinrich, Belle Bird, Mary Edith Parke, Barbara Parke, Josephine Parke, Gertrude Moehling, and Mildred Brockmeyer. This team will be remembered as having finished second in the Presbyterian Athletic association tournament last March. The club also entered the A. A. U. tournament in which it won its first two games, finally falling before the I. W. A. C. Brownies.

Home games will be announced later in the columns of this paper.

The emir had 48 wives in all, and 152 children, so he could afford to be liberal. Mr. Wilson gracefully declined, however, and after months in Africa, came home and married an American "dolichocephalic blond" and has two tow-headed kiddies of a hue that the African little girl who was frightened at him, would call "peeled."

Defends Blacks

Ahough it was a blustering night, and this the first number of a lyceum course in Arlington Heights, there was a fair-sized and enthusiastic crowd. Mr. E. D. Whitmore, superintendent of schools, introduced the speaker, who not only entertained, taught a powerful lesson in good will for those superficially not of our kind but are more like us than unlike us after all, who have their work in God's great plan, and who merit our good thoughts and helpfulness.

Many writers, travellers and picture men have grievously misrepresented the African people, Mr. Wilson charges. They bring back what they went to see, and to tell. They never lived with the people enough to know them.

Community Program

Two other big educational programs are to be given under the auspices of the Woman's Club and the P. T. A.: Music and readings Jan. 12; and Professor W. V. O'Shea on April 8. Warm appreciation of this splendid educational enterprise is being voiced.

High and Low Latitudes

The post office at Leadville, Colo., is probably the highest in the country, being 10,190 feet above sea level. Calipatria, in southern California, is probably the lowest—175 feet below sea level.

Bell Twice Cracked

The Liberty bell, which was brought to America in 1752, cracked at the first ringing after its arrival. It was then recast, and cracked again on July 8, 1835, while being tolled in memory of Chief Justice Marshall.

Original Moors

The name "Moor" was applied to the people of Morocco. The Arabs conquered the Roman province of Mauretania and converted the inhabitants to Mohammedanism. The race soon became mixed and these people upon invading Spain and Portugal were called Moors. Spanish writers soon applied the term to all the Mohammedans of northern Africa.

Robin's Range

The robin ranges as far as Labrador in the eastern part of the continent, and Alaska in the west.

DU PAGE BOYS LEAD NATI[illegible] SCOUT G[illegible]

[illegible]ches Again Show[illegible]rd of [illegible]est Increase; Big[illegible]nt for This Dist. [illegible]ec. 4

The DuPage Area Boy Scout Council has just received word from New York that again it leads the United States in growth and development. Every three months every Council in the United States is rated as to its growth and development in the past year. At the end of June, the DuPage Council was rated first. In the ratings just received, which were for the three months ending September 30, Du Page is again in the lead. The number of points received is 1091, as compared with 1069 which were received in June.

This is a remarkable record to be able to hold the lead for a six months period. The figures are based on the number of troops, number of Scouts, number of new Scouts, number of Tenderfoot, number of First Class, and seven other features. This rating plan is used to show the departments in which they need to build up. In the twelve separate items which make up this plan, the DuPage Council had an average of 91 points.

This record is due largely to the increase in the number of Troops and Scouts during the past year. From plans now in operation it looks as though the Council will be able to hold their position for some time to come. Thursday night, a new District was organized which will take in Addison and Bloomingdale townships. This will add a new troop at Bensenville. New Troops are being organized Wheaton, Lombard, and Vi[illegible] The Council expects to add [illegible] Scouts before Dec. 31.

The first big event for the new northern scout dtsirict will be held Friday night, Dec. 4, at the Orphanage in Bensenville. This is to be a Court of Honor and the installation of the new district. The Elmhurst band and a Drum and Bugle corps from West Chicago will be on hand. A big crowd is expected to attend this event, parents and friends of the scout movement are cordially invited to witness the occasion.

Monday night, Nov. 30, a Court of Review will be held at the same place. Scouts who are ready for Second Class, First Class or Merit badges should be present.

Mrs. Frances Frye spent Monday at the Roseland hospital with her daughter, Mrs. Anderson and the new grandson.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wilson and family, Mr. John Kitson and Miss Ruth Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walter and family spent Sunday in Chicago with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wilson.

The annual reunion of the children, grandchildren and families, descendants and relatives of the Rev. W. H. Smith, will be held at the Palatine Methodist church on Thanksgiving Day. About forty are expected.

Mrs. Minnie Putnam and Miss Gussie Olms accompanied Mrs. Elnora Foster to Barrington Monday evening and visited Barrington Rebekah lodge.

The eighth grade boys enjoyed a basketball practice game at Barrington Saturday morning. As Barrington has five teams, our boys played five quarters giving each team a workout which was indeed strenuous for our boys, but they thoroughly enjoyed it.

William Dryer is practicing regularly on the high school track for his next run. All his many friends wish him success and hope he wins first place.

The boys of the seventh and eighth grade are making some very pretty and useful articles in their manual training work, with Mr. Rolfe as the teacher.

For pretty Christmas cards by the box or quantity or personal stationery call on Mrs. Elnora Arps Foster, tel. 264. She has a very fine and complete line, and reasonably priced.

The suggestion has been made that the forest preserve district purchase the P. L. Z. & W. right-of-way from Baldwin road to the Forest preserve, removing the tracks and having it graded as a bridle path and for the use of the hikers, who are now forced to use the paved highways.

A number of our teachers when interviewed regarding Thanksgiving plans, stated that they would know better after they learned if they were to receive their pay this week, or not.

Dr. Williams was seen about our streets this week, apparently upon the road to recovery from his recent accident.

The Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schoppe home was the scene of a family gathering Sunday.

When asked about Thanksgiving, one of our most prominent citizens replied, "my wife needs a new coat;" then as he noticed that friend wife had heard his remark and was all smiles, he added, "her chance of getting it is very small." His wife then decided that friend hubby's chance for a Thanksgiving dinner was equally small. Thus they are dining out, unless of course the new coat arrives by Thursday morning.

Mr. Paige is opening up a barber shop in Elmhurst.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oltendorf entertained guests Sunday evening.

We are really going to have winter this year. If you do not believe it, take note of the signs stored at the Henning garage, which read, "road closed on account of snow." Patrolman Wm. Henning, got them out when the papers announced early this week that a snow storm was on the way.

Junior Neagle had the misfortune to fall when playing last Saturday and fracture an elbow.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Gorsline are now residing at Springfield.

Palatine stores will all be open Wednesday evening and closed all day Thursday.

W. E. Schering returned home last week from Texas where he took an auto to his son-in-law, Alfred Haack, who is now situated down there in government work. Mrs. Schering accompanied him there but remained until this week, visiting their two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Haack and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schroeder. When asked regarding conditions down there, Mr. Schering said, "They do not feel the depression as badly down there because they did not have the prosperity that was experienced up here."

Mrs. G. H. Arps spent the week-end in Chicago with her daughter, Mrs. Alma Olson.

Miss Loraine Freeman, a graduate of Elgin high school, is taking a postgraduate course here.

Mrs. Marie Daly and nephew spent Sunday with Chicago friends.

S. A. Grandy has returned to his work.

Mrs. Geo. Meyer received word this week that her nephew, Harold Lewis, 12 years old, was killed at Chillicothe, Ill., when riding a bicycle. He attempt to pass around a load of hay when a motorist coming from the opposite direction, hit him.

Ed. Hendron and family of Forest Park, were Saturday visitors at the Chas. Bliese home.

Miss Mercie Heise plays upon a concert organ at a conservatory recital at Kimball hall Saturday.

The editor's family is entertaining Mrs. G. S. Young, of Chana.

The T. E. Samson family will spend the day with Mrs. Samson's sister in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Orth will entertain Mrs. E. Huffman and Mr. and Mrs. John Tate and family of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wittenburg will entertain Grandma Wittenburg and the Fred Gussewelle family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Perry will entertain Miss Agnes Monte, Wm. Bishell, of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mapledoam and Mrs. Perry, of Park Ridge.

Mrs. Mair and daughter, Edna, will enterain Mrs. Freye and the John Wente family.

The Wm. Lohse family will spend the day at the home of Geo. Lohse.

Mrs. H. O. Hocher, formerly Miss Timmerman of Palatine, will speak at a special evening service the coming Sunday, Nov. 29, at 7:30 o'clock. She will speak on the European crisis, its causes, effects and probable dangers and its relation to us as Christians. Mr. and Mrs. Hacher have been doing work at a German university for over a year and returned to the States recently.

Mrs. Esther Matthews of Chicago spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Bruhns.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rouse and family of Marengo, were Palatine callers Saturday evening. Mrs. Rouse is nursing an injured thumb which was caught in a wringer.

Everybody will be welcome at the Thanksgiving service at the Palatine Methodist church on Thursday morning, at 10 a. m. All who come are asked to bring some gift for the poor. Food, clothing or cash will be cheerfully accepted, and will be disbursed by the Relief committee of the church, working in harmony with the Communinty Relief committee. The play, "Red Shoes at Plymouth," will be given Thursday morning. The 10 o'clock hour is chosen so that plenty of time may be given for the Thanksgiving dinner at the homes of the people after the Thanksgiving service.

Geo. Vogt of Indiana is calling on Palatine friends and visiting his sister, Mrs. Lucy Flake.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Koepp entertained over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cuske and Miss Hazel Lenz, of Oshkosh, Wis.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kramer have been on the sick list the past week.

The card and bunco party given by Mr. Cook at the Catholic hall was well attended and a real success.

Mrs. I. Blum entertained 27 relatives in honor of Mr. Blum's 65th birthday Sunday. A delicious dinner was served. Those attending the celebration were as follows: Mrs. Sadie Handelman and Mr. and Mrs. Solmon and two children of South Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cohen and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Blum and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blum and daughter of Jefferson Park, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hildebrandt and son, Mr. and Mrs. Blum and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blum and son of Palatine.

H. G. Wells Sees Reconstruction of World Systems

"I once said civilization was a race between education and catastrophe," said Mr. H. G. Wells, the historian, before leaving New York for France the other day. "That is not so," he continued. "Education has not yet started. There must be education to break down nationalism, to destroy our narrow conceptions of patriotism, and to create a world organization that will transcend nationalism."

Mr. Wells praised Henry Ford as the most interesting man he had met for a long time, and who showed "an astonishing apprehension of the present times." Mr. Ford understands that there "has to be a profound reconstruction of our methods of exchange and our political methods," Mr. Wells said.

At a luncheon given Nov. 13, by Dr. William F. Russell, dean of the Teachers' college in New York, Mr. Wells declared that existing economic and political organizations must be eliminated in order that the irritations that lead to war be removed.

The stout old gentleman rushing along the platform just missed his train and returned puffing and all out of breath to be greeted by the station agent with the question:

"Missed your train sir?"

"Oh, no," was the reply, "I didn't like the looks of it, so I chased it out of town."

SEZ I

"Red" Jones was a gambler from way out West,
Way back when the West was accursed,
Of all the hombres in Dead Eye
  Gulch
"Red" Jones was by far, the worst.

He drank bad liquor, and swore a lot,
And thought it extremely funny,
To win by skill, and moretimes kill
Travellers for their money.

"Red" Jones was a burly sort of a guy,
With a scar clean 'cross his head,
He could hit his mark, even in the dark—
At least that's what folks said.

He ruled the Gulch with a tyrants
  power,
And kept everyone in dread,
Some tried to cross this self-made
  boss,
But they died from a dose of lead.

Now, long one night, in the last of June,
A stranger came to town,
At the bar where he sat, he heard
  men chat
Of the terrible "Red's" renown.

This stranger guy was a funny
  chap,
With a voice and eyes so sad,
It was obvious to all of us
That he wasn't what we call "bad."

He had a warrant for "Red's"
  arrest
And explained in manner quiet,
That he "hoped to catch, this dreadful wretch"
And at least, he was going to try it.

As he spoke "Red" Jones broke into the room,
With his gun at the stranger's
  head,
But the stranger fool, remained
  quite cool,
And we all gave him up for dead.
The stranger opened his pocketbook
And handed to "Red" a bill,
"Red" grinned at the mon, but fingered his gun
For he was intent to kill.
But just as "Red's" trigger-finger moved
To bring this guy to his knees,
(This is true, I swear, 'cause I was there)
"Red" gave an awful sneeze.

Sometime later they had "Red's"
  trial,
And everyone went to see,
When the trial was ended, "Red"
  was suspended—
From the limb of a tall pine tree.

Now, folks can't tell how it came about,
How the stranger captured "Red,"
But it's sure as Truth, 'cause I got proof,
The king of the Gulch is dead.

Some say the stranger had doped
  the bill
With pepper or some such stuff
But whatever is true, I'm telling you,
It sure was powerful stuff!

Folks asked the stranger to tell
  'em how
But his mouth he'd securely close,
And in manner sad, would sometimes add,
That he won the fight by a nose.

If you have a 1913 Liberty Nickle in your possession you are very lucky, so says Mr. R. A. Wilson, coin collector and philatelist of Los Angeles, for then the government of these United States will gladly pay you fifty dollars in real money for 'em. Well, we hope you all have lots and lots of 1913 nickles, and we hope you get lots and just oodles of fifty buckses for them. Look through your change and see if you haven't got some of these—now nickles. Unfortunately for us, THE nickle we have, isn't.

"NEW FANGLED BABY SHOW TO BE GIVEN AT NEWTOWN"—(Crawfordsville Journal).

This modern age just isn't content to let anything be. What, we ask, is the matter with the old style infant?

A certain Chicago Cosmetics manufacturer has been arrested on charges of fraud. We can't be too harsh on this poor fellow, though. He's used to doing that sort of thing. In fact he makes his living helping some people make things appear different from what they really are.

"LOST—BLUE AND WHITE SCARF, AROUND FIRST METHODIST CHURCH" — Crawfordsville (Review). And round the steeple?

The illiteracy and downright ignorance in this supposedly educated country is amazing. Just the other day we read of some poor, misguided seventeen-year old boy who burned down his schoolhouse to get out of going to school. As we said, ignorance is startling. Doesn't he know that he shouldn't burn down the school house 'cause they'll build another of the danged things right away!

"INTEREST IN NUT GROWING REACHES NEW MARK IN ILL."—(Palatine Enterprise).

We can't very well object to their growing but why do they have to drive cars?

They can say what they want to obout the Chinese situation but we still think that what General Ma's army needs is a good old battle song. Maybe Al Jolson could work over one of his old "Mammy" songs for General Ma.

"FOR SALE—BABY BAD, $5"—(advertisement in Crawfordsville Review.) Spank him, don't sell him!

Seein' as how this is Thanksgiving week and everything we're going to let all of you out a little early today. And if we didn't fear you'd think we were being to trite and copy-cat we might even wish you Happy Thanksgiving! Aw shucks, guess we'll do it anyway—HAPPY THANKSGIVING! So there.

You're all too full of turkey and cranberries to read what we're writing, anyway.

John Ferris Stafford.

Hammer Man's First Tool?

The first tool evolved by ancient man is believed to have been the hammer. At first the hammer was a stone held in the hand. Next a strip of skin was wrapped around it, and finally the hammer took the form of a real invention when man gave it a handle by means of a stick fastened firmly to the stone with rawhide or the stout fibers of some plant.—Gas Logic.

OLD SCHOOL WAYS HURT GIFTED CHILD

Often Become Problems; "Opportunity" Classes Are Required

'DOUBLE PROMOTION' IS FOUND FAILURE

How may the gifted children of today be educated so that tomorrow, instead of leading criminal gangs or pursuing only selfish interests, they may lead the nation to greater achievements? This is the question considered by the special report just received by Secretary Wilbur from the White House Conference Sub-committee on "The Gifted Child."

This sub-committee of which Henry H. Goddard, Ph. D., professor of Education Psychology, Ohio State University, was chairman, states that the United States has 1,500,000 gifted children, i. e., children with exceptional intelligence. According to psychologists, superior children are usually gifted all round. Special ability in one field, as in music or mathematics, is rare, and is usually due to emphasis on that aspect of the child's general ability. Such children, when they are educated in the "enrichment" or "opportunity" classes described in the report, show that they can excel also in activities in which they have been apparently weak. A young musical prodigy, for instance, who had never gone to gym and was both awkward and frail-looking, when tutored until he was up with the other children, proved capable of surpassing many of them in games, and a "literary" little girl who was a regular bookworm and did not know how to play with other children, soon develoned ability to get along happily with them and even to lead them in their play.

Practically all efforts to provide for gifted children an education which will be more suited to their powers than the classroom work for the average child, fall under two headings; the enrichment method and the rapid progress method. The practice of giving double promotion to the brightest individuals was begun sixty years ago. Thirty years later groups of these children began to be taught together, covering three years' work in two. Such efforts are now regarded with dissatisfaction by school principals and teachers, and in many cities they have been abandoned altogether. The children get into high school and college when they are too young. Though they can keep up in their academic work, in everything else they are misfits.

In cities where the enrichment method has been tried for more than ten years, as in Cleveland and Los Angeles, the enthusiasm in favor of it has been steadily growing, not only among school authorities but among the children and their parents. Such a class covers the regular curriculum for the grade plus one extra subject, and in the time that is left over each child undertakes a special piece of work, either by himself or in cooperation with two or three others, chosen after consultation with the teacher.

Freedom to Develop

Tables and chairs take the place of fixed desks and seats. The room has a reference library of its own, and the children move about with great freedom, look up information and prepare reports and the accompanying illustrative material. Children who learn so much faster than their classmates, when they are in the ordinary classroom, that they are in danger of developing into behavior problems, become so interested and occupied in the enrichment class that the question of poor behavior does not arise.

Several studies have been made comparing children who have been in such a class with equally bright children who have remained in the regular grade. In those who have had the advantages of the enrichment method the desire to show off is less highly developed and there is greater evidence of the qualities of leadership.

This White House Conference report urges every community to take steps to select its gifted children and to educate them according to the enrichment method. Even the rural school teacher who understands the principle of it can give the specially bright boy she may find in her district supplementary reading and research work which will call for fuller use of his abilities.

Since "in a democracy, more than in any other form of government, high class leadership is essential," the subcommittee recommends "active and efficient steps to save this gigantic number of children from the idleness, the more or less malicious mischief, and the neglect which is their portion in the average public schools of today. Failure to develop the very bright to their highest capacity represents waste of the kind that we can least afford."

SCHOOL NOTES

DEER GROVE SCHOOL, DIST. 12

The Deer Grove school will hold a dance Dec. 5, at 8 p. m. in the schoolhouse. The Lions club orchestra of Arlington Heights is to play.

The schoolhouse is located on Ela road near the Northwest highway and Dundee road viaduct. All money made at the dance is to be used in the purchase of playground equipment. Admission is only 25 cents. Everyone is welcome.

Schiller Park Activities

By H. J. JACOBY

The benefit program given all the grades of the school Tuesday evening, Nov. 17, in their assembly hall proved a most excellent entertainment. The varied program gave the boys and girls plenty of scope to display their various talents.

The children of Fairview school gave a little play "America, The Melting Pot," using flags, speaking and singing in the languages they represented. Conrad and Frank Mietus were warmly applauded for their Polish songs. A clever exercise, "All the Year Around" was greatly appreciated.

The first grade pupils of Schiller Park gave several interesting numbers, including a "Brownie Dance" and a little play entitled "Morning," and were heard in three songs. The second and third grade pupils contributed some interesting selections, "A Thanksgiving Dinner Song," "Popcorn Dance" and "The Thankful Class." The pupils of the Fourth grade gave the "Doll's Chorus" and five boys sang, "Mighty Lak a Rose" by Nevin. The pupils of Room Five presented a short one-act play "Red Shoes at Plymouth," and the play "The First Thanksgiving," was given by the Sixth grade. The cast was comprised by Donald Kotlow, Father; Alice Guillard, Mother; and Billy Kierig, who made a cute son.

The Seventh grade also presented a "Thanksgiving" play which was greatly enjoyed.

Two dialogues were rendered by the Eighth grade pupils, "The Whipping Johnny Didn't Get," with Shirley Burns as the teacher, and Chas. Koskie and Eugene Nettleton as the mischievous boys. Several others made up the complete school room. "The Children Are Coming Home" was a short scene where the grandparents are expecting their married children to come home for Thanksgiving. The enjoyment of the evening was enced by the singing by the Girls Glee club of "Oh! Who Is As Happy As We?"

The audience was large and enthusiastic, taken in to be donated to the Community fund.

Old French Institution

The Academie des Jeux Floreaux is at Toulouse, France. The first floral games were held at Toulouse in May, 1324, at the summons of a guild of troubadours, who invited the lords and their friends to assemble in the garden of "Gay Science" and recite their works. In 1694 the Academie des Jeux Floreaux was constituted an academy by letters patent. At present it is especially interested in Provencal poetry.

IDEAL GIFT FOR THE BOX

What glorious adventures boys between the ages of ten and twenty have reading The American Boy—Youth's Companion! As if by magic, this well-known magazine carries boys to distant parts of the world, introduces them to strange people, lets them experience queer customs and revel in the adventures of foreign lands.

In a single issue, a boy will battle the frozen Northland with sled and dog team, cross Indian-haunted plains in a prairie schooner, zoom over war-torn lands in an army plane or on dangerous routes with a U. S. mail pilot, hunt wild animals in Africa atop the swaying back of an elephant, go cruising in a battleship, fight Arab raiders with the Foreign Legion and participate in many other thrilling experiences that come to readers of The American Boy—Youth's Companion.

It is such experiences as these that sharpen a boy's wits, kindle his imagination, strengthen his character, develop his understanding of the world in which he lives and of the people that inhabit it. Here, indeed, is the ideal gift for that boy in whom you are interested—that son, nephew, cousin, neighbor, or, perhaps, the son of a business associate. An attractive gift card bearing your name will be sent to the boy if you request it with your order. Then every time the mailman brings the magazine to his door, the boy will think of you gratefully.

Blackberry Long Known

We read of the blackberry in the ninth chapter of Judges, in the Parable of the Bramble. And it is mentioned on some of the tablets recently found in the excavations of Ur. It still grows wild luxuriantly in many parts of the East, and native travelers of today carry little sacks of powdered blackberry leaves as astringent and tonic remedies.

All Have Our Weak Points

Everyone has his weak points; everyone has his faults; we may make the worst of these; we may fix our attention constantly upon these. But we may also make the best of one another. We may forgive, even as we hope to be forgiven.—A. P. Stanley.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

A slight increase in employment and a more "optimistic attitude of employers" has been reported by Leslie Airies, chief deputy in charge of the state department of labor's inspection of employment agencies.

Despite the unemployment situation, about 90 per cent of the 3,500 convicts out on parole from Illinois prisons are working, according to a report of Director Rodney H. Brandon of the department of public welfare.

The state department of labor has reported a sharp slump in building activities through Illinois during the month of October.

According to A. L. Kildow, chief of state apiary inspection, the recent growth in membership of state and county association of beekeepers is an aid to the state's apiary inspection work.

A memorial to their late president, Mrs. Vern Hall Detweiler, was voted by the board of managers of the Illinois congress of parents and teachers at the two-day meeting held in Danville on November 11-12.

In its preliminary estimate which was announced on November 10, the United States department of agriculture placed the 1931 production of corn in Illinois at 338,180,000 bushels. The production of potatoes in Illinois was 4,592,000 bushels.

Stuart E. Pierson, director of the state department of agriculture, has announced that as an added step in the state's part in the plan to aid farmers to hold grain for higher prices, warehouses supervisory boards have been appointed in forty-six Illinois counties.

About 1000 persons are expected to be in attendance at the annual business meeting of the Illinois State Teachers Association which will be held in Springfield December 28, 29 and 30, according to an announcement of Robert C. Moore, secretary of the organization.

To find out how far quail and pheasants range from the farms on which they were released, and why they stray away, the state department of conservation is leg-banding several thousand of the birds in this season's free distribution, and seeks the cooperation of the sportsmen throughout Illinois. Hunters who kill quail or pheasants anywhere in Illinois are urged to look for legbands on them. Finding any, they are asked to mail them to the department of conservation at Springfield with information as to the date and place of the killing of the bird.

Linnaeus' Idea

The idea of inserting a grain of sand in a mussel shell, so that the mussel would build a pearl around the irritating sand, was suggested by the Swedish naturalist Linnaeus.

POULTRY and PET SHOW

The Elinor Tea Shop

"For a Delicious Thanksgiving Dinner"

Admirably located at 19 S. Park Ave. in Park Ridge, opposite Pickwick building, is one of the most popular restaurants in this section and merits the large patronage it receives, for it is one of the cleanest, most sanitary, serving palatable foods, to be found in the state. Very popular with the traveling public, as well as the city and adjacent territory.

This up-to-date place has gained a name that has spread far and wide as a place where the local and traveling people can more than satisfy their demands in the manner of obtaining food. Their display of food consists of not only the prime necessities of life but many delicacies are offered that are inviting and tempting to the taste of the most fastidious.

Cleanliness is one of the outstanding features of this modern place and is not confined to tables and silverware and food that is brought to the attention of everyone but extends to the kitchen, where the dishes are all sterilized and those places only frequented by the management and assistants.

The food is prepared in such a way that to the unintiated the thought at once comes, there never was such a good place to eat. Poor restaurants are not the exception by any means. It is a pleasure to have such a modern and up-to-date place as this at which to refer the stranger as well as local people.

The manager has made a special study of the business and consequently is striving to give the people just a little better all the time. They have arranged the place so that it is very attractive and insist that the service be kept prompt and courteous.

With that business acumen and foresight which has won such wide popularity and patronage for the company in the past, the management has studied the needs and demands of the people of this section and immediately struck the popular chord of public approval.

A strong feature and one that has aided them most in forging to the front is their system of having all foods during their particular season, or when the public desires it the most.

We take great pleasure in complimenting the Elinor Tea Shop upon the high order of the establishment and refer it to our readers without hesitation.

THEATRE NEWS

Will Rogers at Chicago Theatre

America's Ambassador of Mirth, Will Rogers, comes to the Chicago Theater Friday, November 27 in his latest comedy success, "Ambassador Bill."

Will Rogers is seen as the American Ambassador to Sylvania, a mythical Kingdom, whose political training has been the means of developing a wonderful sense of humor; a widower, a rebel when it comes to court etiquette, genial, witty, but worldly-wise; who treats the King and Queen as he would a peasant and is liked for this attitude; who can get a laugh even in a Senatorial investigation of his conduct; who loves to laugh and to make the world laugh with him.

This is Roger's greatest picture and he is given more opportunity to display his quick wit than any part he has had in the past.

Lawrence Tibbett at the Roosevelt

For the many movie fans who howled at the antics of the hilarious Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante in "Get Rich-Quick Wallingford" here is welcome news. Jimmy can now be seen, funnier than ever, in "The Cuban Love Long" now playing at the Roosevelt Theater. Ernest Torrence, his partner in mirth in "Wallingford" has a similar role in "The Cuban Love Song" and the pair cavort about in a manner to set the drollest person into a laughing fit.

Lawrence Tibbett, popular star, has the featured role and during the proceedure of the picture has ample opportunity to reveal his marvelous singing prowess and great acting ability.

"Corsair" with Chester Morris At United Artists

"Corsair," a dashing romance of the sea, is the current screen attraction at the United Artists Theater.

"Corsair" presents a new type of story — different in every respect from anything ever shown on the screen. It is packed full of thrills—wholesome humor—and tender romance. It tells the story of a modern sea pirate, who is the terror of the high seas—mercilessly sweeping aside everything lying along the path to his ultimate goal—gold. He centers his attack upon a large rum running fleet and continually hi-jacks their ships — reselling what he takes from them for a huge profit. Spurred on by the scorn of a woman he risks his life to prove to her he is not yellow.

Duke Ellington Stays 2nd Week at Oriental

Due to insistant demands and hundreds of letters Duke Ellington and his famous orchestra will remain at the Oriental Theater another week.

This is the first time that any orchestra has been held over for a second week in one theater—and if any Band deserves to be held over it is Duke Ellington's.

Ellington was brought to the Oriental Theater five times—and every time he was a bigger hit than the time before. Ellington has enough songs, novelties and jazz fantasies for a dozen smashing programs!

OLD TIME DANCE FOR CHARITY

Unemployed to Be Aided From Receipts Wed. Eve., Nov. 25th

The unemployed of Palatine are to be aided from the net proceeds of an old time dance that will be held at the Seip auditorium this Wednesday evening, Nov. 25, under the auspices of Palatine Post No. 690 American Legion. The funds will not go into the usual American Legion relief channels, but will go directly for local relief of those unemployed.

Old time dances at the Auditorium have been very popular several years and the Legion boys are looking for a record breaking crowd.

MRS. F. HAMANN DIED SATURDAY

P. T. A. RADIO PROGRAMS ARE WORTH WHILE

A very interesting announcement was given at the P. A. A. meeting Tuesday night in that the P. T. A. programs will be given over Chicago radio stations. Some of these programs are:

Wednesday, Nov. 18, over WENR 9:30 to 9:45 a. m., subject, "Our Children." Miss Bessie Gay Van Clen of Chicago, specialist on children's literature, will give "Books for Children."

Nov. 25, Mrs. Helen Cody Baker, Chicago Council of Social Agencies, will give "Thanksgiving and Our Children."

On Fridays over WMAQ, 4 to 4:15 p. m.:

Nov. 13, Colonel Frank Knox, publisher of Chicago Daily News, will give "How the Newspaper and Parent Teacher Associations Make Neighborhoods in the City."

Nov. 20, Dr. Douglas Horton, Chicago pastor, United church of Hyde Park, "Religious Education."

Nov. 27, Dr. Henry Morrison, professor of education, University of Chicago, "What the Public Schools Are For."

On Saturdays over WMAQ, 11:45 a. m. to 12 m.:

Nov. 14, Miss Elizabeth Davis, Chicago, psychiatric social worker, south side and lower north side child guidance centers, will give "When Parents and Children Get Together."

Nov. 21, Mrs. Arthur Wanner, president Benj. Franklin Parent Teacher association, Glen Ellyn, will give "Vacation Fun Exhibits in Glen Ellyn."

Nov. 20, Mrs. Buford B. Russell, president Hoyt Parent-Teacher association, Chicago, will give "Vacation Fun Exhibits from the Mother's Point of View."

It is hoped many will take advantage of listening to these programs and please report as it is only fair to the association to know how they are being received.

Over the NBC chain at 8:45 p. m. on Nov. 21, and Nov. 28, will be two interesting programs; and over WHK on Mondays from 1:15 to 1:30 p. m., Dr. G. C. Meyers of Cleveland will speak on Nov. 16, "Playthings;" Nov. 23, "Play at Home," and on Nov. 30, "Play at School."

A VALUABLE LESSON

It often takes a severe jolt to awaken some people to the fact that they're traveling the wrong path. But the depression that is now gradually fading out has served that purpose. No matter how hard it is hit the public can generally find at least one good lesson in the slump. They realize now that the greatest asset one can have, in good times or bad, is a clean credit record.

More than one family around Bensenville has learned the value of credit as a result of the tightening up in finances that started more than a year ago. And this is true in every section of the country. Those who protected their credit by meeting their bills as promptly as they possibly could, and showing a willingness to pay whatever obligations they contracted, have found the going much easier than those who abused their credit, let their bills drag along and made no apparent effort to settle them or any part of them.

Local business men have been more than lenient through the dark days of the past few months. And yet they cannot be blamed for refusing to favor the fellow who never showed his appreciation of the trust placed in him when he could have paid. It is but natural that now, when credit is needed more than at any time in recent years, the favors should be shown those who paid their bills when money was easier to get hold of. This certainly should be a lesson to the "slow pay" type. They ought to realize now that keeping one's credit good is just about the same thing in an emergency as having actual cash in the bank. If they are not learning from this experience, then there is no hope for them.

Admiration of Higher Things

No nobler feeling than this of admiration for the higher than himself dwells in the breast of man. It is to this hour, and all hours, the vivifying influence in man's life.—Carlyle.

Sincere Self-Examination

There is no greater delight than to be conscious of sincerity of self-examination.—Mencius.

DISGUISING OLD CLOTHING SOLVES WOMEN'S QUANDRY

Urbana, Ill. Clothing is the first thing that feels the pinch of hard times, but this does not mean that women or their children must stay at home because they "have no clothes to wear," according to a four-page mimeographed leaflet just issued by the home economics extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

It is entitled, "Disguising Last Year's Clothes," and is designed to: (1) help in the utilization of material on hand, thus freeing dollars for service in other parts of the family budget; (2) help women who have little cash to keep up family standards and morale by helping them to look well dressed, and (3) keep women from staying at home because they "have no clothes to wear." It was prepared by Miss Edna Gray, associate in clothing extension.

"A summary of the few of the outstanding differences between the styles of this year and of last year is encouraging for the woman who must find ways this winter of making her dollars go farther than in the past. For one thing, skirt lengths are almost unchanged. One of the outstanding changes in style this winter is in the length proportion of skirt to waist."

Color contrast also is an important feature of fall dresses, according to the manual. This perhaps will help many women utilize dresses not otherwise usable. Contrast may take the form of a bright scarf, a bright blouse, sleeve trim, collar, vest or even yokes. Many dresses will look like suits or coats. Hip length coats are perhaps more popular than either the longer or shorter ones. This suit type of dress offers many possibilities to the home sewer who is making over last year's garments. Wool suits worn last spring can be supplied with colorful blouses or vestees and worn all winter as dresses.

The vogue for the use of plain dark colors, such a brown, dark green, and wine red, as well as black, offers a wonderful opportunity to make old clothes look new by re-dyeing, the manual points out.

BASKETBALL SEASON STARTS THIS WEEK

Palatine Plays Hampshire Nov. 24; Alumni and Fox Lake Next

Coach Megel has a schedule of nineteen cage games lined up for his Pirate quintet in the season which opened with Hampshire last night. Of these, twelve are North-west Conference games. the first of which is with Libertyville here Dec. 11. Before the conference season gets underway the Pirates will compare strength with the Alumni Dec. 4, and oppose Fox Lake, Dec. 8. All these early season clashes will be staged on the home court.

Thirty-five boys are practicing daily under the direction of Coaches Megel and Vervloet. Only one letterman remains from the 1930-31 North West Conference title winning five and this athlete, Harold Meyer, will captain the team. Meyer was all-conference center last year.

The remainder of the lineup will likely consist of members of last year's second team. Eugene Meyer had some experience on the first squad as a guard last season while Smith, Matthei, Wagner, Beckman, Zyc and Buesching were lightweight team members. Reuse, E. Hahnfeldt and Kruse have been looking good among the Freshmen candidates. Stuart Paddock looks like a fine prospect and others who are working hard for positions on the first or second teams are: Tudyman, Hinrichs, Schwantz, Pauscek, Neagle, Stokes, Kuhlman, Regenberg, I. Hahnfeldt, DePue, Thompson, DeBerge, H. Bergman, Haldeman, Langhorst, Irons, J. Tudyman, Shinkosky, F. Frohne, Mangels, Helms, Miller, Blankenship.

The team this year will lack height and weight, but there is keen competition for positions and many of the boys have already shown great possibilities. In about another week Coach Megel plans to cut the squad to 20 boys which will constitute the first and second teams.

Arrangements will be made for a third team composed of boys not able to make the first squad. These boys will have regular practices and a schedule of games will be arranged for them.

The Palatine schedule of conference games does not include Leyden, Lake Zurich and Arlington, but the latter teams will be met in non-conference games. The conference tournament will be held at Libertyville the last week in January.

The schedule follows:

Nov. 25—Hampshire (here).
Dec. 4—Alumni (here.)
Dec. 8—Fox Lake (here).
Dec. 11—Libertyville (here).
Dec. 18—Wauconda (there).
Dec. 21—Hampshire (there).
Dec. 23—Arlington (there).
Jan. 5—Warren (here).
Jan. 8—Bensenville (there).
Jan. 15—Antioch (there).
Jan. 16—Barrington (here).
Jan. 22—Libertyville (there).
Jan. 28—Conference Tourney.
Feb. 5—Wauconda (here).
Feb. 9—Fox Lake (there).
Feb. 12—Warren (there).
Feb. 13—Bensenville (here).
Feb. 19—Antioch (here).
Feb. 26—Barrington (there).

New Garage Equipment At Henning's Garage

The Henning garage is now completely re-equipped with tools and a special mechanic for the repairing and handling of cars. Following ing the recent changes made there, the proprietors started out to ourchase new machinery and supplies, which has been arriving the past two weeks and with Adam Melzer late of Arlington Heights and formerly of Glenview, this garage is ready for anything and everything in garage work. Mr. Henning has announced that he is going to specialize in some lines, announcement of which will appear in the Enter prise from time to time.

Local Teacher and Pupil Return Triumphant from Trying Football Trip

When G. A. McElroy, teacher in the Palatine high school and Wesley Cropper paid $5.00 each for tickets to see the Notre Dame and Southern California football game last Saturday, they did not know how near they would come to never being there. They started out from Palatine O. K., but on the way, the car of Mr. McElroy broke down and he had just asked the garage man if they could hang around and listen to the game over the radio, when his fellow traveler saw a likely looking driver and the two completed the journey to South Bend as hitch-hike passengers.

The two had the opportunity to tell the high school about the game Monday morning and the pupils enjoyed the story of their motor troubles as much as their story of

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS TO GO PAYLESS

Board with $60,000 Credit Is Unable to Borrow; No Sale for Warrants

The depression is hitting the high school teachers of Palatine this week, just at a time when they are supposed to be thankful. Unless the treasurer of the board is able to find some money rolling up hill, the teachers will be forced to go without their usual November pay check and will have to enjoy their Thanksgiving dinner with thoughts of a dreary Christmas next month. The Palatine high school board is in no different a position than many other school boards and villages of the county which have been without their usual tax monies.

With a legal tax anticipation warrant credit of $60,000, the Palatine board finds that Chicago banks and bankers are not able to do anything for them. It seems that there is little demand for such paper among investment houses and banks, especially tax anticipation warrants of Cook county taxing bodies.

President T. C. Hart stated Monday that unless someway can be found for the public to pay its taxes, he sees no way out of the dilemma in which the board is now placed. There is little relief to be had from the county treasurer's office, which is hesitant about turning over to the various taxing bodies, money that is rightfully due them. The present situation in that regard is an example of what the taxing bodies can expect if the plan of the big Chicago interests succeed in taking the collection of taxes away from individual townships.

Dr. Moore, Dist. Supt., To Speak Sunday Night

Dr. Aubrey S. Moore, superintendent of the Chicago Northern district of the Methodist denomination, will preach at the next Sunday evening service at 7:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church in Arlington Heights. Special music will be sacred solos sung by Mr. Homer Evans, accompanied by Mrs. Isabelle Heide at the organ.

"Journalism from the Christian Standpoint" will be discussed at the Epworth league at 6:30 o'clock. A newspaper man will speak.

Mr. Albert Wheeler of Arlington Heights, who has studied vocal art in Italy, and has a studio in Chicago, together with one of his pupils, Miss Rosalind Harry, sang beautifully at the morning service at the Methodist church in Arlington Heights Sunday.

MUSIC TO FEATURE GUEST DAY

Woman's Club Members Can Invite Others to Enjoy Music Treat

The next meeting of the Palatine Woman's club will be a musical afternoon next Tuesday at the Community hall in the high school. The entire program will consist of music and about music. A special feature will be a story about Wagner's life and the four operas "Das Rheingold," "Die Walkure," "Siegfried," and "Dust of the Gods," which will be presented by Mrs. J. C. Voeks. It is hoped that her son, Theophile will be able to be present and sing some of the arias of these operas. Other numbers of the program of which Mrs. E. P. Steinbrinck is chairman, are a musical reading by Mrs. Orth, violin solo by Mrs. Tamm and solo, by Homer W. Evans, of Arlington Heights.

It will be a guest day and members will have the privilege of inviting a guest without paying the usual fee. This year's programs of the Palatine Woman's club were carefully planned and the meetings are proving to be very enjoyable as is attested by the large number who attend.

The program is as follows:

"The King of the Nibelung" the genious of composers—Richard Wagner, by Mrs. John C. Voeks, with piano acsompaniments by Mr. Theophil Voeks.

Violin Solo, "Second Polonaise Brillante" by Henri Wiemawski, Mrs. Carl Tamm, accompanied Mrs. Walter Krueger.

Musical Reading. "Aux Italiens" by Lytton-Verli. Mrs. Edwin D. Orth, accompanied by Mrs. John H. Rolfe.

Vocal solos, "Romany Songs" by Hermann Lohr, Mr. Homer Evans, accompanied by Miss Mercie Heise.

Lumber Firm Announces New Heating Service

A new fuel conservation and house heating service has been announced by W. R. Comfort Sons, who are urging local residents to make use of it without charge.

According to Mr. C. E. Comfort of this company, much fuel is wasted and unsatisfactory heating results obtained due to three major causes.

"Many people use the wrong kind of fuel. unsuited to their heating plants," he says, and adds, "others waste a good share of the coal they buy by feeding or piling it in the furnace so that much of the heat goes up the chimney intsead of into the house."

A third and perhaps the largest waste, according to Mr. Comfort, is due to heat leakage through roofs. This last, he says, can be stopped by a recently developed wood wool blanket, called Balsam-Wool, which is spread in attics of houses already built. Substantial results in fuel saving are reported by those who have had such a blan-

Local Motorists Lose Blankets from Garages

Somebody went out after blankets Monday night and gathered in a few. Those who reported loses by nine o'clock Tuesday morning were Mr. McBride, Walter Witt and Fred Hunnerberg.

Other garages entered were those of Otto Schroeder (2 blankets), C. E. Comfort (fire extinguisher), Albert Mollenhauer, Wm. DePew, and Alfred Laseke. The son of John Schinkowsky had his bicycle stolen.

Wise Counsel

Palatine Officials Send Telegrams

Sixteen telegrams forwarded to the representatives of this district at Springfield by the officials of Palatine, last week acquainted Senator Arthur A. Huebsch and Representatives Anna Wilmarth Ickes, Emmet McGrath and Frank E. Foster with the sentiments of their constituents in Palatine township. If every town in Cook county would do as much, the combined effort would have a decided effect in Springfield. As Sen. Huebsch stated Sunday, "when a man finds a score or more telegrams on his desk on one certain matter, he begins to take notice and is certain to give every consideration to requests made therein."

That Senator Huebsch was right is attested by the reply from Mrs. Ickes that was received Tuesday by T. C. Hart, president of the Palatine Township high school board as follows:

November 21, 1931.

Honorable T. C. Hart,
Pres. Palatine Twp. School Board,
Palatine, Illinois.

My dear Mr. Hart:

I acknowledge receipt of your telegram of November 17, expressing opposition to the proposal to consolidate all the tax machinery of Cook county and do away with the local assessors and collectors.

I am glad to assure you that I agree with you in this matter and shall do what I can in opposition to this proposal.

Yours very truly,
ANNA WILMARTH ICKES,

The telegram forwarded to all four representatives, and to which Mrs. Ickes responded, was as follows:

The Palatine Township High School asks your support in opposition to the consolidation of all the tax machinery of Cook County in the county building in Chicago. Our local assessors and collectors represent home rule, fair valuations on our property, and immediate turnover of collected taxes to our schools and municipalities. Centralized power in Chicago means a long delay in the turnover of taxes, and property valuations by persons entirely unfamiliar with local conditions. We feel that the continuance of the township collectors and assessors is very important to our existence, and we ask your aid in retaining our individuality. This is a vital matter with the country taxing bodies.

T. C. HART, Pres.

The same telegram was sent by Supervisor John H. Meyer, Mayor E. H. Oltendorf and School Treasurer, F. A. Schering.

Former Palatine Resident Dies in Her 88th Year

The Comfort family received word this week of the death of Mrs. Jennie Sutherland at Dickinson, North Dakota. The deceased spent her girlhood days in Palatine and at one time resided on the former Hicks farm. She was an aunt of the late W. R. Comfort and had other relatives in Palatine. Burial was beside her husband in California.

Deserved a Medal

Bobbie, a Pekinese owned by Mr. and Mrs. Eagle, was awarded a medal at the Croxley (England) canine show for rousing them by pulling bedclothes when fire broke out in their house.

Named for Royalty

The long double-breasted frock coat for men is named after Princce Albert, the prince consort of Queen Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seip, Mr. and Mrs. John Seip and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Fink and daughter will eat Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Williams of Racine, Wis.

CATHOLIC YOUTH BOXING WIND-UP AT STADIUM, 4th

The final wind-up of the Catholic Youth Organizations' amateur boxing tournament in the Chicago area will be held on the night of Dec. 4 in the Chicago stadium. Winners will be taken on a holiday trip to New York or the west coast, all expenses paid. In addition, they will be presented with medals which are the gift of Cardinal Mundelein, ordered from Vatican City, and designed by Sylvio Sylvana, personal the game itself.

Year's Hottest Season

Dog days comprise the hot, sultry season of summer during parts of July and August; so called from the fact that the rising of the dog star, Sirius, the brightest star in the heavens, is coincident with the rising of the sun. The ancients thought this conjunction caused the intense heat of summer and the maladies which then prevailed. hence the popular supposition that dogs are likely to go mad at this season.

Children's Speech Defects

The more common forms of speech defects in children include retarded speech, imperfect speech associated with partial deafness, imperfect speech caused by certain malformations of the organs of speech, and the nervous speech disorders, such as stammering, stuttering and nervous hesitation.

MANY LAUGHS AT MEN'S CLUB MINSTRELS

Rollicking Comedy and Specialty Numbers Feature Show

"Bones" and all of the other cullored gentlemen held sway at the Methodist assembly hall Monday night when the Men's club presented its minstrel show. It is a two-night stand and the second "number" is being given Tuesday evening, Nov. 24. It is being shown that Palatine people will patronize good clean wholesome entertainment and that a minstrel show can be all of those things. The boys were well trained and brought down hundreds of laughs; their makeups were realistic and the discomfort of some of them was very amusing to the audience.

Harry Royale was the interlocutor and Mrs. VanScoyoc was the director of the program. These two have had considerable stage experience and gave to it a professional air that made the program worth several times the small admission price charged. Specialty numbers on the program were dances by Misses Eleanor Steinbrinck and Vivian Koepp, saxophone solo by Geo. Minniberger, baritone solo by Wm. Minniberger and a skit called the "Phantom House" presented by Dr. Royale and Mrs. VanScoyoc.

The program was made more enjoyable by a five piece orchestra from Horders' Stationers, who came out to Palatine as a courtesy to Mr. Skibbie.

This entertainment is but one of the many that the Men's club is planning to present the coming winter. They are all given in the Assembly hall of the Methodist church.

Trading Term

The designation "direct trade" is given to commerce between two nations carried on in vessels of either of those nations. When conducted in vessels of other nations it is termed indirect trade.

Nesting Birds

The number of broods of song birds each year varies with the latitude of the region in which these birds are located. The number varies in general from one to three broods.

Valuable Rock

Mount Kineo, 900 feet high and jutting into Moosehead lake, in Maine, is said to be the biggest single mass of hornblende in the world. Hornblende is rock containing considerable iron and occurs in distinct crystals and in columnar. fiberous and granular form. It once was used by Indians for arrowheads.
